GRIFFIS GETS EGYPT POST

Gallman Is Named to Succeed Him in Poland

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WASHINGTON, July 8—Stanton Griffis of New York received from President Truman today a recess appointment as Ambassador to Egypt. He was appointed as Ambassador to Poland in 1947. The Cairo post has been vacant since the resignation of S. Pinkney Tuck.

Waldemar J. Gallman, a career diplomat, who has returned here from London, where he had been Counselor of Embassy with the rank of Minister, was appointed to succeed Mr. Griffis as Ambassador to Poland.

Born in Wellsville, N. Y., in 1899 and graduated from Cornell in 1921, Mr. Gallman entered the Foreign Service in 1922. He has served as diplomatic secretary in Cuba, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Latvia and Poland. He was made counselor in London in 1944.
