Farouk's Wreath for King Among Most Elaborate
By The Associated Press
New York Times (1857-Current file); Feb 14, 1952; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2003)
pg. 3

Farouk's Wreath for King Among Most Elaborate

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 13—Florists, swamped with orders, disclosed today that one of the most elaborate of an estimated 100,000 floral tributes ordered for Friday's funeral of King George VI had come from King Farouk of Egypt, which is involved in a bitter quarrel with Britain.

His wreath includes hundreds of curled laurel leaves and white lilies. A white silk ribbon attached to it is inscribed "King Farouk of Egypt and the Sudan." Britain has refused to recognize the Egyptian monarch's sovereignty over the Sudan.

Three plane loads of flowers arrived from the French Riviera to decorate St. George's Chapel at Windsor Castle, where the King will be buried.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.