French Ex-Judge Gets 20 Years
New York Times (1857-Current file); Feb 22, 1952; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2003)
pg. 3

French Ex-Judge Gets 20 Years

MARSEILLE, France, Feb. 21 (Æ)—Capt. Edmond Chacun, 44, was sentenced to twenty years at hard labor today on charges of treason in the court he formerly presided over as a military judge. He allegedly betrayed plans of the resistance group he belonged to, giving them to the Germans during the occupation of France. He was later said to have been given a mission for the Nazi intelligence service in Syria, but he was arrested in Turkey and handed over to the British authorities. Chacun, who was born in Alexandria, Egypt, insisted in court he had never been a traitor.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.