Naguib, at Station, Sees Train Kill 28 Egyptians
Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
New York Times (1857-Current file); Jan 31, 1954; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2002)
pg. 17

Naguib, at Station, Sees Train Kill 28 Egyptians

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CAIRO, Jan. 30—Egypt's President and Premier, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, watched helplessly today as a Diesel locomotive plowed into a group surrounding him at Kafr el Zayat, in the Nile delta, killing twenty-eight persons and seriously injuring five others.

The accident occurred as President Naguib prepared to board his special train after visiting the scene of another disaster of the day before—the burning of 102 houses at the near-by village of Ibiar.

At the time of the disaster the President was surrounded by a delirious crowd of Egyptians seeking to approach him.

The President's admirers surged out over the northbound track of the rail line between Cairo and Alexandria.

The crew of the northbound express failed to see the crowd in time. Among the dead were three policemen.

President Naguib wept unrestrainedly, according to onlookers.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.