NARRIMAN GETS DIVORCE

Former Egyptian Queen Has Renounced Claims to Son

CAIRO, Feb. 2 (AP)—Twenty-year-old former Queen Narriman won a divorce in a Moslem religious court here today from former King Farouk after a month of behind-the-scene negotiations.

The girl Farouk first saw in 1949 as she shopped for her engagement ring with another man renounced custody of her two-year-old son, Ahmed Fuad. She also dropped her demand that the former king personally pay her monthly alimony of 5,000 Egyptian pounds ($14,400) and a dowry allowance of 10,000 pounds ($28,800).

Instead, her lawyer said, Narriman will ask President Mohamed Naguib's revolutionary government to pay her those moneys out of Farouk's properties in Egypt, which the new regime confiscated when it dethroned and exiled him in July, 1952. Her chances of getting the money appear problematical.
