CAIRO UNIVERSITIES SHUT
New York Times (1857-Current file); Mar 14, 1954; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2002)
pg. 2

CAIRO UNIVERSITIES SHUT

Move Follows Student Demands for Ouster of Nasser

CAIRO, March 13 (UP)—The Government ordered the indefinite closing of Egypt's three main universities tonight after about 2,000 Cairo students demonstrated for the ouster of Vice-Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The students defied emergency regulations to stage the demonstrations. Their universities had just been reopened after a two-week shut-down following the Feb. 28 demonstrations set off by President Mohammed Naguib's return to power.

The demonstrators also demanded that Egypt break off relations with Britain and drive British forces from the Suez Canal zone.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.