300 BRITONS LEAVE SUEZ
Special to The New York Times.
New York Times (1857-Current file); Aug 12, 1954; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2002)
pg. 9

300 BRITONS LEAVE SUEZ

First Detachment of Troops Sails From Port Said

Special to The New York Times.

CAIRO, Aug. 11—The first detachment of Britain's Suez garrison sailed for England yesterday, two weeks after Egypt and Britain initiated the outline of an evacuation agreement.

The British Embassy announced today that 300 soldiers from the Suez base had boarded the transport ship Captain Hobson at Port Said. Another and larger detachment is expected to embark Saturday. The evacuation will be accelerated as fast as shipping becomes available.

The departures are a sign of both the goodwill of the two parties to the agreement and of the impatience of the Suez garrison troops to leave Egypt. According to the terms initiated July 27, Britain was not obliged to begin the evacuation until the formal signing of a detailed agreement. Egyptian sources have set Sept. 1 as the target date for the final signing.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.