Sudanese Voices Regret
Special to The New York Times.
New York Times (1857-Current file); Nov 16, 1954; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2002)
pg. 5

this country that was significant because he was elected as a leader who opposed British policy in the Sudan and favored the Egyptians. In the last ten days he has been received by Queen Elizabeth and Prime Minister Churchill.

It was clear that the visit, together with the Premier's comments today, was significant of a strong Nationalist trend in Khartum, contrary to Egypt's hopes for close links between the two countries.

Sudanese Voices Regret

Special to The New York Times.

LONDON, Nov. 15—The Premier of the Sudan, Ismail El Azhari said today his Government was "sorry" for the deposition of General Naguib as Egypt's President.

He was careful to say that the Sudan was also "sorry" for the assassination attempt on Premier Nasser, with which General Naguib has been implicated by the Cairo Government. But the Premier did not disown the statement by one of his ministers, Mubarak Zatouk, in Khartum today that the deposition would damage the chances of Sudan's linking itself with Egypt.

The Sudanese Premier was ending a ten-day ceremonial visit to Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.