PEACEFUL AIMS AVOWED

Egypt's Premier, Israel's Chief of Staff Write of Policies

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and Israel's Chief of Staff, Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, assert the peaceful intentions of their respective countries in articles in the January issue of Foreign Affairs Quarterly.

While assailing Israel as aggressive, the Egyptian Premier wrote: "We do not want to start any conflict. War has no place in the constructive policy which we have designed to improve the lot of our people. We have much to do in Egypt and the rest of the Arab world has much to do. A war would cause us to lose, rather than gain, much of what we seek to achieve."

General Dayan, while charging that the Arab countries, including Egypt, were plotting a second round of attacks on Israel, wrote: "Israel would welcome any measure, however temporary and palliative, that might help in some measure to reduce tension."
