Caffery Bids Egypt Farewell

Special to The New York Times.

CAIRO, Jan. 11—United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery, retiring after nearly forty years in the diplomatic service, and more than five years as United States representative in Cairo today foresaw the future of Egypt as "brighter than ever before." This optimistic view was expressed in a farewell statement as the Ambassador and Mrs. Caffery boarded the steamship Exeter, sailing from Alexandria for Italy today.
