EGYPT VOICES CONCERN

U. S. Expresses Its Regret Over Shooting Into Consulate Here

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP) — Egypt officially expressed to the United States Government today its "deep concern" over the firing of several rounds of ammunition Saturday at an Egyptian diplomatic office in New York.

Ambassador Ahmed Husstein called on John D. Jernegan, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State, to deliver a note from his Government. He said afterward that Mr. Jernegan expressed the State Department's "deep regret and disapproval" and said he had been assured the police were doing everything possible to arrest those guilty.

Several shots were fired Saturday through an upper window of a building housing the Egyptian Consulate and United Nations delegation in New York. The office into which the bullets tore was unoccupied at the time. Police found empty shells on the roof of a near-by building.
