U. N. WILL HEAR ISRAEL

She Will Present Her Position on Gaza Clash Tomorrow

Special to The New York Times.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 21—The Security Council will resume debate Wednesday on Egyptian-Israeli border troubles and the recent clash near Gaza. The Council will meet at 3 P. M. to hear Israel's side.

Last Wednesday the Council heard the United Nations' Palestine truce chief, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, call the Gaza incident the "most serious clash between the two parties" since the 1949 armistice. He said Israel had been condemned by the Egyptian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission for having started the fighting. However, he went on to place the incident against a background of recurrent border tensions and said that Egyptian infiltration was one of the "main causes" for this.

Abba Eban, Israli delegate, is expected to enlarge on the argument that Egypt is to blame for the new border troubles because of a stepped-up campaign of hostile acts against Israel.
