TRUCE BODY LAYS ATTACK TO EGYPT
Special to The New York Times.
New York Times (1857-Current file); Mar 28, 1955; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2002)
pg. 11

TRUCE BODY LAYS ATTACK TO EGYPT

Assault on Israeli Wedding Party Is Termed 'Brutal'—Convoy Going to Scopus

Special to The New York Times.

JERUSALEM, March 27—Egypt was held responsible today for a "brutal and murderous act of aggression" in the attack Thursday on a wedding party at the village of Patish.

The Egyptian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission, meeting on the border of the Gaza Strip, adopted a resolution calling on Egyptian authorities to do their best to arrest the perpetrators of the crime.

The resolution was proposed by the Israeli delegation. Commandant Francois Giocomaggi of the French Army, United Nations chairman of the commission, cast the deciding vote.

The commission found that two men had hurled two hand grenades and fired four bullets into a crowd at a wedding in the village, which is ten miles inside Israel. A woman was killed and twenty-two persons were wounded.

The commission took note that acts of aggression against Israel had not been terminated and that this act aggravated "the serious situation" along the demarcation line between Israel and the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

Truck Convoy to Scopus

It was announced, meanwhile, that a truck convoy would take supplies and the semi-monthly change of guard to Mount Scopus tomorrow. The convoy has been delayed ten days because of a dispute between Israeli and United Nations authorities.

The Israeli police will remove a roadblock on the approach to the Arab village of Isawiya, on the eastern side of the Scopus ridge below the Hebrew University and the Rothschild Hadassah Hospital

Its inhabitants, who live in the demilitarized zone around the university campus, are accustomed to use a road running close to the buildings. As a security measure, the Israeli police had blocked this road. Officials asked that the block be removed and halted the convoy until this was done.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.