Plans to Aid Egypt Sped
By KENNETT LOVE Special to The New York Times.
New York Times (1857-Current file); Nov 1, 1956; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2002) pg. 11

Plans to Aid Egypt Sped

By KENNETT LOVE

Special to The New York Times.

AMMAN, Jordan, Oct. 31—Jordan and Syria continued today their preparations to go to Egypt's aid against Israel if requested under the terms of their three-power defense treaty. It was signed in Amman earlier this month.

All gasoline stocks were frozen for possible military use pending the working out of rationing arrangements. Civilian and commercial vehicles remained under orders to keep their fuel tanks full in the event they are requisitioned.

Commerical planes of the Arab Airways and Air Jordan companies remained grounded to stand by for Government use under an order issued yesterday.

British and French moves on Suez gave impetus to the general assumption among Jordanians that the Israeli attack on Egypt had been engineered by Britain and France as a pretext to seize the canal.

The British Royal Air Force units at the Amman air base moved northward to Mafraq last night.

The British units apparently have separated themselves entirely from the Jordanian forces. Britain had pledged to come to Jordan's aid in the event of an Israeli attack.

Doubt exists concerning Britain's pledge, which was made two weeks ago in accordance with the British-Jordanian mutual defense treaty of 1948.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.