HARRIMAN SAYS U. S. LOSES MIDEAST REINS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP) —Governor Harriman said today that "the reins have been taken from us—we've been kicked aside in the Middle East."

"The United States has lost complete control of events in areas vital to its security," the Democratic Governor said. He said that he was quoting The New York Times in this statement and that the newspaper was "one of the greatest apologists for the Eisenhower Administration."

Governor Harriman, batting for Adlai E. Stevenson at a Democratic luncheon, said President Eisenhower had not honored Israel's request for arms to balance shipments from the Soviet Union to Egypt. He added, "We have our obligations to the little state of Israel."

The Governor said President Eisenhower "would have us think everything was going to work out all right even though we have lost control."

"I didn't think I would live to the day when we would find ourselves on the side of the Kremlin in opposition to our friends of Britain and France and the little nation of Israel," Governor Harriman said.

The Governor said developments in the Middle East showed "a lack of confidence" toward the United States on the part of its allies.

Mr. Harriman became the main speaker at the luncheon after Mr. Stevenson, the Democratic Presidential candidate, canceled an appearance here.
