Messages About Egypt Set a Record at U. N.

Special to The New York Times.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 1—More delegates at the United Nations called their governments and vice versa today than ever before. The messages were about the British-French intervention in Egypt.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company said that the international calls made yesterday and today from the United Nations exceeded even those made in the first stages of the Korean war. There was no official count, however.
