EGYPT IN APPEAL TO 'ALL' NATIONS

Asks for Arms and Volunteers to Repel 'Aggression'— Vows Will to Fight

By The United Press.

CAIRO, Tuesday, Nov. 6— Egypt appealed to all the nations of the world today to send arms and volunteers "to repel British, French and Israeli aggression."

A Government statement said a message appealing for men and munitions had been sent "to all nations of the world."

The message pleaded for assistance from "those who still respect the dignity of man and the supremacy of law in international relations."

The statement said:

"At the decisive moment in which the highest human values are exposed to danger and in which France, Israel and the United Kingdom are committing aggression against Egypt in defiance of the world, Egypt appeals for volunteers, arms and other forms of aid from those who still respect the dignity of man and the supremacy of law in international relations.

"The Egyptian people are fighting a battle for survival. They are not fighting for themselves and their country alone but for the whole civilized world. As long as aggression is continuing within Egyptian territory in defiance of the United Nations, Egypt will continue to fight with absolute determination and with all her strength against the forces of evil."

It was learned that Egyptians had been flocking to join the National Liberation Army (National Guard) in thousands since the first paratroopers landed yesterday.
