PEIPING CAUTIONS WEST

Says 'Police Action' in Egypt Recalls Korean War

Special to The New York Times.

HONG KONG, Nov. 6—A leading Peiping newspaper was quoted in a broadcast tonight as questioning the idea of a United Nations police force for Egypt. It warned that "police action" described the Korean war, in which troops from Communist China fought against the United Nations.

"Aggressive action by Britain and France must be checked," Ta Kung Pao said. "But in doing so no one should be allowed to carry out further aggression on the pertext of checking aggression."

It made no mention of Soviet proopsals to check aggression in Egypt.
